

THE CRESCENT CITY INVITES YOU

A city that has everything but ocean and mountains

he Crescent City entices you to "enjoy" while you attend our annual convocation and banquet in fabulous old New Orleans.

Our convocation and banquet at the Sheraton Hotel will begin at 2:00 p.m. Friday afternoon, October 21, 1994, with a great reception at 6:30 in the Sheraton's Pontchartrain Ballroom followed by our banquet at 7:30.

The French christened the city in 1718. Born as a Creole princess she knew floods, disease, swaggering pirates and the Choctaws and Chickasaws. Spaniards adorned her with their architecture but the French Creole origins remained abundant everywhere. The Cajuns came in 1763 to add their spicy lifestyle. Now this European Queen of the mighty Mississippi celebrates her heritage year round.

Come and enjoy Cajun dining and experience the exuberant spirit of the Cajuns through their boisterous music and fiery food. You also may enjoy the finest French cuisine outside of Paris. In between are fabulous Creole delicacies of jambalaya, etouffee or "mudbugs". Don't forget the beignets!

Walk the artists Jackson Square for an ever changing art show. Enter the hallowed sanctuary of historic St. Louis Cathedral and see the wonders in the Cabildo (historic museum.) Follow the action of Bourbon Street in the Vieux Carre (French Quarter) in the cabarets, hear the raucous barkers, listen to the ever present jazz music.

In a quieter mood is their neighboring bayous with their splendid views, plantation homes, Royal Street and its antiques, and shoppers paradise in Jax Brewery (75 shops) or Riverwalk with 140 shops.

There is so much to see and do that you absolutely must join us for our convocation and always excellent banquet and then enjoy music and dancing later with the "The Nobles" orchestra.

After your appetite is sated by the fine food, you can relax even more by listening to the mood music created by the outstanding New Orleans orchestra, "The Nobles" band. Jazz assuredly will be some if not more than "When The Saints Go Marching." Then, if you are up to it you can dance the night away.

There are no extended formalities because we are there to enjoy the fine food, great music and to have a good time. Black tie is recommended.

Be sure to join your Fellows and enjoy a wonderful evening that climaxes a great day. You would be wise to make your reservations immediately.

RICHARD J. SHOESSLER IS ELEVATED TO LEADERSHIP OF USA SECTION

The ICD — Redefining Fellowship

n behalf of the officers and Board of Regents of the USA Section of the International College, I bring greetings to all Fellows of the College. I am greatly honored to serve as your president in 1994, and am finding it to be a rewarding and challenging year.

In December, 1993, I attended the meeting of the American Association of Dental Schools in Tampa, Florida, and they were genuinely appreciative to have a representative from the College participate. I would suggest that future presidents consider attending this annual meeting. I attended the Dallas Midwinter Dental Clinic in January, and spoke to our Texas colleagues. In February, I attended the Thomas P. Hinman Dental meeting where I addressed a joint meeting of the International College of Dentists, American College of Dentists, and the Pierre Fauchard Academy. In May. I attended the Iowa Dental Association and addressed the fellows of the Iowa chapter of the ICD. Also in May, I attended the South Dakota Dental Association annual session and brought greetings to the South Dakota Fellows, and presented the "Outstanding Young Dentist" award, a joint project of the ICD and the SDDA, at the opening session of the House of Delegates.

Wherever I go as a representative of the College, I find warm friendship and gracious hospitality, which exemplifies the fellowship found throughout the ICD.

My main goal this year has been and will continue to be to encourage ICD members to participate in the projects of the College and to become more involved in organized dentistry at all levels. It is essential for all dentists to be aware and informed of proposed changes in the delivery of health care services, and the only way to do this is to attend dental meetings and have input into the future of our health care system, especially where in concerns dentistry.

The committees of the College are functioning smoothly, and the Foundation is continuing to grow in support of the programs of the College. I have appointed an Ad Hoc committee, chaired by Dr. Sam Rogers, Regent of District 15, to study and possibly simplify our whole financial accounting system and report back at the Board of Regents meeting in June. My purpose in this is to have a system that can be understood by all involved, and can be easily passed on to succeeding treasurers and financial committee members.

I want to thank our Registrar, Dick Shaffer, and his able assistant Florence, for their efficient operation of the Central Office. Dick is doing an outstanding job for the College, and we are looking forward to renewing his contract. I have appreciated his wise counsel and the support and helpfulness of the staff during my term as president.

I am looking forward to the Board of Regents meeting in Rockville, MD, in June, the Continuing Education XIII Conference in Vancouver in September, together with the ICD induction ceremony, and of course, our annual convocation and other events in New Orleans in October.

I hope to see many of you in Vancouver and New Orleans.

RICHARD SHOESSLER: A PROVEN LEADER

Richard J. Schoessler was born in Chamberlain, South Dakota, August 15, 1928. He attended Reliance Public Schools and graduated from Reliance High School in 1946. He graduated from Creighton University School of Dentistry in 1953. Dr. Schoessler served in the U.S. Army from 1952 to 1957 and from 1961-62 and was a West Point Liaison officer for over ten years. Presently, he holds the rank of Colonel (RET) in the U.S. Army Reserve. Dr. Schoessler was in general practice in Pierre, South Dakota, for over 30 years.

Dr. Schoessler was president of the South Dakota Delta Dental Plan (1972-1977) and served as the South Dakota Dental Associations' president. He served as a delegate to the House of Delegates of the ADA and then served two terms as the ADA Trustee from his district. He was a member of ADPAC Board of Directors four years and was on the Executive Committee four years. He was an ADA delegate to the FDI meeting in Manila, Phillipines in 1986 and served as a consultant to the FDI. He was Vice Regent for the ICD 10th District for six years and Regent for six years. He holds membership in the Pierre Fauchard Academy, the Federation Dentaire Internationale and is a Fellow in the American College of Dentists.

Our President Shoessler proves he is a fisherman—three blocks from his office.

Historic Baltimore chosen as site of CEC XIII

ou must place on your calendar NOW the tuition free Leadership Conference and Continuing Education Conference XIII July 21-22, 1995 to be held in historic Baltimore, Maryland. This is a revitalized, exciting and varied destination for you to visit.

The area is loaded with historic sites and museums. Visit the newly restored mid 1800's mansion Evergreen House Museum with its art and rare manuscripts, even from Queen Isabella to Christopher Columbus. View the wonderful and exotic animals and sea life at the Marine Mammal Pavilion with its seven levels of attractions. Walk through Edgar Allen Poe's House and visit his grave, or you can visit famous journalist H.L. Mencken's Home. Who can resist seeing Fort McHenry, the scene of the 1812 battle that inspired the word of our Star Spangled Banner. Thrill with the imagined sounds of battle board the US Navy's first ship, the USF Constellation. Shopping? Of course there is. Harborplace has over 100 shops, stalls and restaurants.

Tired of all this you can rest and enjoy the finest seafood anywhere. Baltimore is renowned for its crab cakes, blue crabs (in season) and its variety of seafood in its many fine restaurants. This cosmopolitan city offers many choices of wonderful ethnic foods.

Oh yes,! You might want to check the schedule of the great Baltimore Oriole baseball team.

MY VIEW FROM THE CENTRAL OFFICE

Registrar's comments

1994 is already over half over and we are close to welcoming another great class into the International College of Dentists in New Orleans on Friday, 21 October 1994 at the Sheraton New Orleans Hotel. The longer I am in office, the faster the years seem to move along. I am not sure what that means.

The USA Section has had a great year since I wrote my last KEY article to you last summer. Many things have happened and many are happening., We continually attempt to communicate with you successfully, but that is not as easy at it sounds. It is a two-way street and your feedback to your REGENT is always welcome.

I'll spare you all the yearly details of the Central Office other than to say, it is alive, well, working to be responsive and having fun. Come and see for yourself.

Our Continuing Education Conference (tuition free to the ICD Fellows) last summer in Buffalo was magnificent—thanks to the great clinicians and the great hospitality in Buffalo. Unfortunately we had to turn down some late members because of the crowd. That is a nice kind of problem. The popularity of these conferences has skyrocketed, so next year in Baltimore, watch for the brochure and arrange your schedule early.

The Convocation/Dinner Dance in San Francisco had all the ingredients for a memorable day for the new Inductee. A large crowd to witness the Ceremony, a fantastic speech by Fellow Art Dugoni (THE SPEECH IS PRINTED IN TOTAL IN THIS ISSUE OF THE KEY ON PAGE 8), a huge crowd at the Dinner Dance, good food, but the best of all was the great people who attended the day's festivities. You are the ones who make these events successful. Keep coming—it is super.

These two important events encompass Fellows from around the USA Section. I must interject, however, the local state gatherings are a very exciting part as I VIEW IT FROM THE CENTRAL OFFICE. I see renewed and increased participation in the College. I see Deputy Regents working diligently to enhance the goals of the SECTION and College. I see more Fellows making the effort to sponsor their colleagues because they are deserving of the honor. Keep it up and take a personal interest in your area.

So the above things are history. Where do we go from here? The USA Section is continuing its aggressive posture supporting many projects which enhance dentistry. In addition the following important future events are listed for you here:

—International Induction Ceremony, Vancouver, British Columbia on October 1, 1994. Over 20 USA SECTION will be inducted with Fellows around the world.

—1994 USA SECTION Annual Induction/Dinner Dance, New Orleans Sheraton, Friday October 21, 1994.

—Leadership Conference/ Continuing Education Conference, July 20-23, 1995, Hyatt Regency, Inner Harbor, Baltimore, Maryland.

—1995 USA SECTION Annual Induction/Dinner Dance, October 6, 1995, Las Vegas, Nevada.

—1996 Continuing Education Conference, July 25-27, 1996, Hyatt

Registrar Richard G. Shaffer gives last minute instructions to inductees.

Regency, Beaver Creek, Colorado.

So, 1994 is going very well because of each of you. Keep the great candidates coming in, we take them all year long. Go to your state ICD meetings, you will enjoy the fellowship and come to the above events. It is part of the privilege and honor of being a FELLOW in the preeminent International Dental organization in the world, International College of Dentists.

possible before handing it

—George Bernard Shaw

Editors Note:

This address given at the ICD Convocation in San Francisco contains a vital message all ICD members should hear.

By Dr. Arthur A. Dugoni

would like to extend my congratulations to President Lon Carroll and the officers and regents of the International College of Dentists for promoting the highest ideals in health care, for advancing the standards and efficiency of dentistry, and developing the human relations and understandings that have extended the benefits of health care and education to the greatest number of citizens in the United States and the world.

I would also like to recognize the soon-to-be fellows of the International College of Dentists. I find myself in awe of your accomplishments and your dedication to our profession.

Through your efforts, you have elevated our profession to the status of a learned profession. I sincerely hope, however, this will be the beginning of your contributions and service to our society and the dental profession.

The International College has reached out and, in a way, has "knighted" you, and your life will never be the same. Your colleagues, patients, citizens of your community, the governmental and economic leaders of this country will look to you for leadership. As much as you have done, and as far as you have come, there is much more to be accomplished. The world is hungry for your leadership skills, dedication and commitment. Almost 300 of you will be handed a torch, a torch that you must carry through the decade of the nineties and into the twenty-first century. Perhaps George Bernard Shaw said it best, "Life is no brief candle for me, it is a sort of splendid torch which I have got hold for a moment. and I want to make it burn as brightly as possible before handing it on to future generations." I am convinced that you are more than able to take this torch (burning brightly) forward into the next century. You are fortunate to continue your leadership role in a fabulous time of change and promise. Dentistry's future will indeed be different, but better, and will be remarkably altered by the technological and scientific explosion; the changing demographics of the population; and the changing disease patterns, needs, and demands of patients.

These changes include a population that has more parents than there are children and more Americans over 65 than there are teenagers. The aging population and its needs will force major changes in the health care delivery system. It will position dentistry closer to medicine with more consultations and closer working relationships with physicians. Americans are not only living longer, but as they age, they are politically active, healthier, better educated, and more financially secure than at any other time in our history. Explosive growth in biomaterials will continue to provide the dentist with less invasive and more tooth-conserving approaches to dental care. Sealants and newer restorative materials will incorporate systems with a controlled release of flourides and other therapeutic agents. Saliva will be used to monitor levels of drugs and the body's own tissue products as signs of disease. Broad spectrum anti-attachment agents are being developed to block the ability of bacteria to attach to tissues. The genetic manipulation of oral bacteria is leading to the development of vaccines against caries, oral herpes infections and periodontal diseases.

The graying of America will bring to the dental office a greater number of adults with increased education, substantial financial resources, higher expectations and demands for maintaining and improving oral health than ever before. The decade ahead provides a golden opportunity for the elderly, as well as all segments of the population, to receive the latest in health care procedures, including such innovations as CAD/CAM restorations, laser and implant technology, adult and surgical orthodontics, bleaching, bonding, laminates, tooth-colored inlays and onlays, artificial intelligence, computer enhancements, interactive video, and the preventive application of topical and systemic chemotherapeutic agents.

The population growth to 310 million by the year 2040, combined with increased tooth retention and the decreased number of graduates, establishes a new trend that will affect dentistry for several decades. The future for dentistry has never been more exciting or more rewarding, and the opportunities for personal and professional growth are unlimited. Armed with the latest advancements from twenty-first century science and technology, dentists will provide state-of-the-art, integrated health care to an appreciative population enhancing their general health and the length and quality of their lives.

As we move into this exciting decade of promise and change, I would like to encourage you to take on some challenges, to take some risks, and to challenge the status quo.

On this your "commencement day," I would like you to consider the following challenges:

1. Maintain your inquisitive and searching minds and your quest for excellence, and be lifelong learners. If you do so, dentistry will never be work. Alan Alda of "MASH" fame admonished physicians in a talk recently as follows: "Be learned, be skilled, never lose sight of your humanity. Possess your skills, but do not be possessed by them. Remember the term "doctor" is not your first name, and the first law of anatomy is —-"the head bone is connected to the heart bone"—please don't let them come apart.

2. Have a social conscience- you are the best educated and most respected individuals in the community. What position will you take about health care reform and access to care, about the homeless, about the underserved, about violence and assault rifles, and compromised educational systems, what role will you play? Did you come to play? To make a difference? Are you concerned about an educational system where only 5% of our students are studying sciences? Or that 20 million of our citizens are illiterate?

The U.S. Department of Education in a report published in USA Today (November 5, 1993) revealed the following:

Compared with top students in other countries, the report shows the USA's brightest students are undistinguished at best and poor at worst. For example:

- U.S. seniors taking advanced placement courses in science were last in biology compared with top students in 13 other countries; 11th out of 13 in chemistry and ninth out of 13 in physics.
- In math, the top 1% of U.S. students ranked 13th out of 13 in algebra and 12th out of 13 in geometry and calculus.
 - When comparing U.S. and teachers not simply for seniority or paper credentials, publications and research, but for actual teaching perfrormance

Japanese high school seniors enrolled in college preparatory math classes, Japanese students at the 50th percentile scored slightly higher than the top fifth of U.S. students.

Wow! These are our schools, in our country—are you concerned? Yes, you can afford to send your children to the best of private or public schools, but what about those citizens who have no choice? As the best educated and most affluent citizens in your community, will you take the leadership in educational reform?

Until schools are free to hire the best and fire the worst, important reforms will be stymied. It has been true for too long that the best and the brightest of American's college graduates look askance at teaching as a rewarding career. Less than 0.7% of college students consider education as a career choice.

Dr. William Bennett, former secretary of eduction, reported the following: In a survey of college freshman, most of those declaring an intention to teach have been students with below average test scores—our school children deserve better. If we are to attract the best people to teaching and keep the good teachers we already have, we must begin paying not simply for seniority or paper credentials, publications and research, but for actual teaching performance for how well our teachers teach and how much their students learn. Until good teachers are paid more than bad ones, our efforts to improve teaching and learning will be frustrated. Across the board, people who deal with children are ill-paid, unregulated and less respected than other professionals. Reports of child abuse have soared from 600,000 in the 1970's to over 2.5 million in the 1990's. A searing testimony to the enduring role of children as the easiest of victims. It is worth recalling that children are an honest conscience—the perfect mirror of society's priorities and principles. A research organization, making a study of juvenile delinquency, telephoned 250 homes between 9:30 and 10:30 at night to ask parents if they knew where their children were. Over half of the phone calls were answered by children who had no idea where their parents were.

3. Be involved in your state, local and national governments. It seems many of our government officials are only working to raise money and to be reelected, spending more time on both of these than they do learning the art of governing. Can we afford to mount broad base effort to help the underclass? The real question is whether we can afford not to. The United States incarcerates more people than any other nation—some 1.5 million at last count—imagine 1 out of 200 of us is in jail. At over $25,000 a head per year, that's over $35 million—we could hire a lot of teachers for that amount. You might say, your vote and your actions won't make any difference anyway, but you can make a difference. Let me give you some illustrations: in 1645 one vote gave Oliver Cromwell control on England; in 1649, one vote caused Charles the First of England to be executed; in 1776, one vote gave America the English language instead of German; in 1845 one vote brought Texas into the Union; in 1868, one vote saved President Andrew Johnson from impeachment; in 1875 one vote changed France from a monarchy to a republic; in 1876 one vote gave Rutherford B. Hayes the presidency of the United States; in 1923 one vote gave Adolf Hitler leadership of the Nazi Party. In 1941, one vote saved selective service just before Pearl Harbor; closer to home, in 1971 and again in 1978, one vote elected the president of the American Dental Association, and just this year President Bill Clinton's budget passed by one vote.

4. Always laugh at yourself first. Everybody has a ridiculous side, and the whole world loves to laugh at somebody else. If you laugh at yourself first, the laughter of others falls off harmlessly as if you were in golden armor. Let me illustrate with a story:

Our granddaughter in a second grade class project was asked to write about her heroes. I was flattered to find out she had chosen me. When I asked Chrissy "why she picked me?" She responded, "Grandpa, I couldn't spell Arnold Schwartzeneggar!"

- 5. Don't sweat the little things—what are the little things? You're born—you die—everything in between are the little things.
- 6. On a personal level, don't forget to eat more ice cream, go barefoot more often, climb more mountains, swim more rivers, love more, pray more, thank more, and live life more as you go along and pack all the happiness you can into one trip. From everything I've been told, you only have a one-way ticket.

In conclusion, there is story from on't forget to eat more ice cream, go barefoot more often, climb more mountains, swim more rivers, love more, pray more, thank more, and live life more...

Tom Crumms, "The Magic of Conflict," that I'd like to share with you.

And the master said to the Rabbi, "Come now and I will show you hell."

They entered a room where a group of people sat around a huge pot of stew. Everyone was famished and desperate and unhappy. Each held a spoon that reached the pot but a handle so long that it could not be used to reach their mouths. The suffering was horrible.

"Come now and I will show you Heaven," the Master said after a while.

They entered another room identical to the first—the pot of stew, the group of people, the same long spoon. But there, everyone was happy, nourished, and smiling.

"I don't understand said the Rabbi. "Why are they happy here when they were miserable in the other room and everything was the same?"

The Master smiled, "Ah, but don't you see? he asked. "Here, they've learned to feed each other."

So, my last charge to you is...keep feeding each other and, together we can make this world of ours a better place. I wish each and every one of you all the happiness you can pack into one lifetime. And, until we meet again, "May God hold you in the palm of his hands."

PAST PRESIDENTS, USA SECTION

COLLABORATIVE PROJECT IN DENTAL EDUCATION ESTABLISHED BETWEEN NORTH & SOUTH AMERICA

USA Section promotes a unique internation project

Lloyd J. Phillips

The Continuing Education Conference of the USA Section of ICD was held in Puerto Rico in 1988 specifically to hear and act as a forum for the presentation and promotion of a very unique internation project.

Dr. Raphael Aponte, Director of Dental Continuing Education of the University of Puerto Rico, appeared before the Board of Regents of the USA Section prior to the conference to present the concept of the formation of a consortium of Spanish, Brazilian and Portuguese speaking countries to promote leadership, research, communication and prevention in these countries.

The dental schools in these countries were to be the driving for this project with the University of Puerto Rico Dental School acting as the catalyst. This school is in a unique position for this because of its membership in the American Association of Dental Schools and its sister organization in South America the OFEDO-UDUAL

Rafael, and those he represented, was seeking funds as seed money to promote the organization and implementation of the project, and also asked for the support and endorsement of the Board of Regents. The Board, with President Baxter B. Sapp, Jr.'s strong support and my promotion, gave its endorsement to this new innovative internation project.

Although the Board granted its endorsement the financial needs were greater than our Section could provide. It was suggested that the best source of possible funding was from large financial foundations, e.g. Kellogg, Rockefeller, etc.

Dr. Aponte and the PR group prepared a protocol and proposal and a request for funds that was submitted to the South American division of the Kellogg Foundation and in 1991 the Foundation gave the project a grant of $286,000.

The proposal was for five workshops over a three year period at five major cities in North, Central and South America to discuss major topics of common interest.

The workshops entitled Project North-South were to be coordinated by the CIDDO, the Iberio-pan American Center for the Development of Teaching in Dentistry operating from its central office at the Puerto Rican School of Dentistry. The school was also to be liaison between the AADE and the OFEDO-UDUAL.

Four workshops have been conducted in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Indianapolis, Indiana; San José, Costa Rica and Baltimore, Maryland. I have been the representative of our USA Section and its Foundation to the past three workshops.

The third workshop in Costa

Rica concluded with recommendation that an International Task Force be created with two objectives; to guarantee a careful consideration of the needs identified in the five workshops and to assist in preparing a proposal for the Second Phase of this project to be presented to the Kellogg Foundation for additional funding. I am honored to serve on this task force as a representative of the ICD.

I was in attendance at the March 11, 1994 Task Force meeting in Seattle that was held in conjunction with the AADS Sessions. The Task Force presented a draft of the Second Phase to the representatives of the AADS, ADA, IADR and other interested associations and several people from South American countries for their consideration and input.

A meeting for the same purpose was held in Baltimore, Maryland on April 20, 1994. The last meeting will be held in Puerto Rico in September, 1994, to finalize the proposal document for the Second Phase to be submitted to the Kellogg Foundation.

The following outcomes have been accomplished by means of the initiative and discussions that took place during the first three workshops of the Project North/South on Leadership, Research, and Prevention; a joint effort of the of the University of Puerto Rico and the Kellogg Foundation.

- 1. A definition of a dental leader in the community was established.
- 2. The professional and social dental needs of North and South American have been primarily identified.
- 3. The proceedings of the first two workshops were distributed to N and S American dental schools.
- 4. The project has provided an international communication forum to the AADS, ADEE and OFEDO-UDUAL.
- 5. Several North and South American dental schools have responded to a questionnaire and indicated willingness to participate in collaborative research projects.
- 6. Common collaborative research activities responding to the dental needs of both the North and South regions have been outlined. The Indiana University School of Dentistry has offered to provide its research facilities and necessary equipment for these projects without charge.
- 7. The relationship between the AADS and the OFEDO UDAL has been enhanced by the active participation of their representatives in these workshops.
- 8. As an immediate outcome of the Prevention Workshop, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico will sponsor a Fluoridation Symposium in the Spring of 1994 as a joint effort with the University of Puerto Rico School of Dentistry.
- 9. A Laser Collaborative
 Research among Indiana University, University of Puerto Rico, and the University of Costa Rica, was conducted. This proposal was supervised and facilitated by the Dental Materials Department of the Indiana University, School of Dentistry.
- 10. A Fogerty Award Proposal (NIH) between the University of Puerto Rico School of Dentistry, Indiana University School of Dentistry and Costa Rica University School of Dentistry is being prepared and will be submitted, June 1994.

- 11. A Cariology Collaborative Research effort between UPR-SD and Costa Rica has been made possible as a result of the training of University of Puerto Rico personnel in clinical research by the Indiana University staff. These collaborative efforts will provide models for other North/South Collaborative Research Projects.
- 12. Faculty members and private practitioners in Costa Rica have been updated on infection control guidelines.
- 13 As an outcome of the Indiana Research Workshop, Dr. Roberto Vianna, Acting Dean of the University of Rio de Janeiro, recommended that a pediatric dentist attend the Summer Research Planning and Methodology Program, in Seattle, Washington. The attendee successfully completed the six week program.
- 14. The following universities have expressed interest in collaborative research:

University of Venezuela at Caracas, University of Panama, Universidad nacional Automona de Mexico, Universidad de San Carlos de Guatemala, University of California, San Francisco, Louisiana State University, Temple University, the University of Mississippi, Indiana University, West Virginia University, Universidad Nacional de Cyuo, Mendoza, Argentina.

15. The University of Costa Rica School of Dentistry has requested the University of Puerto Rico School of Dentistry to collaborate in the establishment of a Prosthodontics Graduate Program.

The following goals will be a part of Phase 2 of Project North-South:

- 1. To develop the capabilities for conducting epidemiological research in the participating dental schools.
 - 2. To develop the capabilities for

- pedagogical improvement, including curricular adjustments regarding preventive dentistry, in the participating dental schools.
- 3. To enhance problem solving skills, managerial abilities, and leadership proficiency.
- 4. To establish a data bank with information of common interest and an information sharing network.
- 5. To design and implement pilot projects in order to apply effective preventive measures in the communities represented by the participating dental schools; incorporating those practices best applicable to the specific needs and circumstances of the geographic area to be served.

The International Task Force (ITF) will act as a Board of Trustees with the following normative functions:

- To evaluate and submit a written report to the Project Director of Project North-South Phase II. The report must evaluate the established goals and recommendations proposed during the five workshops.
- To analyze and make recommendations for future actions (Second Phase) designed to increase collaboration among North/South Dental Schools.
- To help identify funding sources to support collaborative and future research efforts.
- a. Membership composition

The following composition of the ITF is suggested:

One representative of the Internation College of Dentistry Three North American Dental

School Deans
Two representatives of Latin American Dental Faculties

One representative of OFEDO-UDUAL

Director of Project North/South-President

The members of the task force are as follows:

Dr. Francisco Dittel

Dr. Dominick De Paola

Dr. Luis A. Marini

Dr. Roberto Vianna

Dr. Rafael Aponte

Dr. Carlos Gigoux

Dr. William Gilmore

Dr. Lloyd Phillips

Dr. Patricio Yépez

I believe the College's participation in the genesis of this project was a good and fortuitous decision. Several of the participants are members of the ICD and the potential of future members, well qualified is excellent. These areas include sections of South and Central America as well as Mexico.

The College has received excellent exposure which is mutually beneficial for the College in its growth and to those potential well-qualified people who are gaining an insight into the College and its purpose.

It is truly an inter-sectional project in which the College, through the U.S.A. Section has become involved.

I am humbly appreciative of the opportunity I have had by the support of U.S.A. Section and the U.S.A. Section Foundation of the International College of Dentists to be a part of this project.

Lloyd J. Phillips, D.D.S., B.S. Past President U.S.A. Section Councilman, International Council

FLORIDA'S LOU ATKINS HAS A DIFFERENT "RETIREMENT"

His goal is better higher education

Higher education in Florida has yet to feel the full influence of native son Louis J. Atkins.

Atkins, well known to state legislators and state education leaders, has left the Blountstown dental practice that he and his father owned for many, many years, and is setting a new course tied to his favorite themes—protection of the environment and support for education.

People of the farming-timber region, who have sought appointments with Atkins for 46 years, have filled his mailbox with letters sharing regrets for themselves and good wishes to the retiree.

Close friends of Dr. Atkins—the consummate politician, lobbyist, motivational speaker, friend of people and of the environment—recognize the sparkle of new ambition in his eyes and voice. Between the intersections of highways 20 and 71 bordering Blountstown, and in the bustling State Capitol as well, they've heard he has an action plan concerned with higher education.

"I think if you look back through history, it is indelibly clear that a nation that is educated is a nation that can survive," says Atkins, who admits he didn't get serious about school until he left his hometown for pre-dental education at UF and later completed dental school and taught for several years at Emory University in Atlanta.

Realizing he can't tackle the entire issue, Atkins has chosen to focus on the funding of higher education, especially related to health care.

Visual evidence of Atkins' new commitment is a historic, two-story Colonial home in the heart of Blountstown, now being renovated as headquarters for an emerging institute of higher education. At this house, volunteer "movers and shakers" will join the founder in planning retreats and pro-education letters will be mailed out frequently with a personal touch by the man who can't say "yes" to leisurely life at age 73.

The mailings will simply expand Atkins' long-sustained practice of sending motivational posters, news articles and letters to decision makers in Tallahassee and Washington and many points in between.

Veterans in the Legislature and many seasoned educators of Florida know Atkins for his effective campaigning, over a span of more than 15 years, to establish the state's first and only College of Dentistry at UF. The school opened for students in September 1972, after repeated delays because of insufficient state funding.

For more than a decade, Atkins also has worked vigorously as a member and former chairman of the UF Health Science Center's Board of Overseers—speaking to civic groups and calling on influential friends to build and sustain public awareness of the Center's achievements and needs.

"Lou Atkins has been a tireless, effective spokesperson for the UF Health Science Center through most of our institution's history," said Kenneth Finger, Ph.D., UF's associate vice president for health affairs. "He's been an effective spokesperson in political and professional circles in supporting everything we do here in education, research and patient care. He's been an advocate for us at local, state and national levels, and always and inspirational leader."

efore the wall crumbled, I had the opportunity to study in East Germany as a Goshen College undergraduate; returning to Germany as a dental exchange student was a little like deja vu with a Helmut Kohl twist. The West has swallowed the East with the speed of a schnell zug (fast train), the appetite of a whale and is in the process of digestion. Changes have happened so rapidly that people are reeling in its enormity.

In 1989, when I first studied there, the spirit in East Germany was quiet, subdued and controlled, with pervasive pessimism. Jobs were low paying, but secure. There was time for study and the enjoyment of cultural events. Beer was cheap and so was the food. Things changed. The wall came down. Freedom prevailed. The pace quickened. The economy worsened. Now ambivalence is widespread in the country. One dental student said "some people feel, '...give us one stone and we will build the wall again'." Other people believe the change was for the best; but it is difficult to look to the future while standing in the midst of chaos. Seventeen percent unemployment in former East Germany subdues optimism.

When arriving in Germany, my host, Professor Wandelt, immediately dubbed me "Rainman" because a long needed rain hit the ground just as I hit the runway. Professor and Mrs. Wandelt and their daughter, Thekla, who was an exchange student at IUSD two years ago, welcomed me into their home and told me a bit about dentistry in Germany. The system is a version of socialized dentistry and has been under scrutiny the past few years. The government has discovered that the cost of unification is immense and cutbacks must be made in almost every field of subsidized health care. Now the people must pay a large por> tion of the cost of dental services. This has caused public outcry and has created awareness of the need for preventive dentistry and periodontic services.

There are 30 dental schools in Germany but three are expected to close. Berlin has two dental schools: the historic Humbolt University in former East Berlin where W.D. Miller taught, and the Free University of Berlin which is divided into a North and South clinic. Thekla was a final semester student at the South clinic where I spent the majority of my

The dental program at Free University of Berlin consists of ten semesters and incorporates comprehensive study of all aspects of dentistry. There are considerable differences between the North and South clinics. The South tends to be a more conservative clinic with emphasis on restorative technique. The North stresses periodontics and prevention. Both have sophisticated Seimens equipment; not surprising since Seimens Corporation is in Berlin.

The atmosphere at school was relaxed and students were diligent but not excessively competitive; cooperation was evident. Clinical work was done in pairs with students alternating as operator and assistant. The first five semesters of classes are primarily science theory courses. Sixth semester is called the "phantom" course and incorporates Black's "extension for prevention" cavity preparations performed on full size, half body mannequins. The seventh through the tenth semester are devoted almost entirely to the clinic. After the tenth semester the student must complete a practicum semester before graduation is considered. Once the student has completed formal course work, they are not immediately granted the doctorate. The title of doctor follows completion of some form of scientific research and having it evaluated by the appropriate professors. The candidate must demonstrate competency in scientific research ability.

The number of private practices in Germany has flourished and securing a practice is becoming more of a problem. Government regulations are beginning to limit the number of dentists in a given area and new retirees may be required to turn over their practice to a new dentist.

Some different ground rules apply to infection control in German private practices. Gloves are not yet legally required, although most practicitioners wear them. Few plastic covers are seen on equipment, but disinfectant spray is used liberally. Decorum also has its variations. I still laugh when I recall the lady who brought her dog into the operatory of my host. She sat down, her dog slumped down on the floor beside her. When Professor Wandelt removed her temporary crown, it popped off and shot through the air. The dog lurched across the room, snapped it up and swallowed it. Needles to say, a new crown was made amid laughter. The Germans have a great way of combining sophistication and a wonderful sense of humor, providing a comfortable atmosphere for practicing dentistry.

Becoming a part of the dental community in Germany this summer has been a memorable learning experience and I am extremely grateful for this opportunity. I extend sincere thanks to the people who have made it possible.

To the Indiana Section of The International College of Dentists for initiation and funding of this program and to Dr. Karl and Mrs. Margaret Gossweiler for their coordination of logistics and their helpfulness.

To Dean H. William Gilmore, Associate Dean Hala Henderson and Associate Dean Donald Tharp for allowing me to represent Indiana University School of Dentistry.

To my hosts in Germany, Prof. Dr. med. dent Siegfried Wandelt and Mrs. Wandelt for their warm hospitality, their introductions to the dental community and their willingness to let me tag along like family. And to Dr. Ontrup, the founder of the German constituent chapter of the International College of Dentists and friend of the Wandelt's.

To the dental students at Free University of Berlin who treated me like a friend, invited me to their parties and found as much humor in my German as I did in their English.

I sincerely hope that this program will be continued on an annual basis so that other students at Indiana University School of Dentistry and the Free University of Berlin can learn more about each other's culture, country and ways of studying and practicing dentistry. It is undoubtably a beneficial exchange.

USA SECTION PROJECT INTERNATIONAL CLINICIAN PROGRAM SCORES A SUCCESS

Fellow Aida A. Chohayeb was featured clinician

ida A. Chohayeb of Rockville, Maryland, was hosted as guest lecturer for the Continuing Dental Education meeting of the Middle East Section of the ICD May 15-16. 1993 at Beirut, Lebanon. This CDC meeting was held in conjunction with the Middle East Medical Assembly Dental Section meeting. This is another example of one of the many splendid ICD projects.

Dr. Chohayeb was royally received at the airport by Dr. Cedric Haddad and a limousine to whisk her to her hotel. She was treated to a sumptuous dinner party that evening. Dr. Haddad and his beautiful wife, Magda, were the hosts for the evening. Magda grew up in the same suburb of Cairo, Egypt, where Aida lived and practiced for many years. At the dinner Aida met many Fellows in attendance: Fellows Sabri, Barakat, Finann, Karjian, Tabourian, Tager, Awada, Tawil and Attiyeh.

A large crowd was in the beautiful American University Campus auditorium as the scientific session met. There were about 200 students, faculty, Fellows and practicing dentists in attendance. Dr. Chohayeb was the clinician, May 15th, speaking on "Endodontics" and on May 16th presented a program on "Composites and Glass Ionomer - Bondage & Micro Leakage." She was enthusiastically received.

Drs. Tabourian, Chohayeb, Haddad & Sabri enjoying the dinner hosted by Dr. Haddad.

At the Tamer's dinner party Drs. Chohayeb and Barakat with Mrs. Haddad and a Fellow.

The highlight of the event for Aida was a formal dinner at the fantastic estate of Mr. and Mrs. Gaby Tamer. It was a wonderful, unforgettable social event. The Tamer's hospitality and the elegant atmosphere was outstanding.

Dr. Cedric Haddad is to be commended for his excellent planning and execution of this meeting. This is another example of one of our many fine projects aided by the USA Section of our College.

ICD RECOGNIZES EXCELLENCE IN DENTAL JOURNALISM

Awards eagerly sought by journalists

he ICD-USA Section encourages dental journalists to improve their publications by providing awards to them for excellence in journalism. These prestigious awards that signify excellence are eagerly sought by editors. These awards have been bestowed for 22 years. There are two divisions and five categories for each of the larger and smaller publications. The awards for the 1992 publications were presented at the annual meeting of the American Association of Dental Editors in San Francisco, November 4, 1993.

ICD GOLDEN JOURNALISM AWARDS

GOLDEN SCROLL AWARD, to editors of publications that show the most over all improvement during 1992:

YOUR FUTURE YEARS COULD BE THIS GOOD

It depends on your outlook

In a letter, Floyd E. Williams shares his life and outlook with USA Section past president Neal Newton:

Dear Fellow Newton,
I am looking at a picture of Geraldine Morrow on the eve of her installation as president of the ADA, me, you and Minoru Horiuchi taken in Boston in 1991. You were presenting me with a Centenarian Certificate. I was only 101 then.

Although born in Nebraska, I once lived in your state at about age 3. Before the age of 6, we moved to Leominster, Mass., and later to Manchester, New Hampshire, at age 12. I graduated from Tufts Dental (now Tufts University Schoool of Dental Medicine) in 1914. Geraldine also is a graduate of that school.

My wife always said my hobby was dentistry and dental societies. and I guess she was right. I was president of the Manchester Dental Society and then president of the New Hampshire Dental Society in 1936. In 1937. I was made Secretary of NHDS and I served for a short time—32 years. My salary was $100 a year. I was Treasurer of the New England Dental Society for 12 years, member of the Board of Governors for 20-30 years and was made Honorary President. I served as an officer in the New England State Dental Officers Conference for 24 of the first 25 years, and president of the National Dental Officers Conference for two years. I feel the installation as a Fellow of ICD my greatest honor. Life has been good to me.

How am I? I'm 103. I told the folks here (Havenwood) a few months ago that I had just discovered that I am an old man. They said they knew it years ago. My memory is OK, but my forgetter is better. I eat and sleep well, walk with a cane or walker and have no particular aches or pains. I even had to give up driving the day I was 100.

This letter may be rambling, but I have most of my marbles.

Yours, Floyd E. Williams

SAN FRANCISCO WON OUR HEARTS

The glamour of this city fulfilled our desires

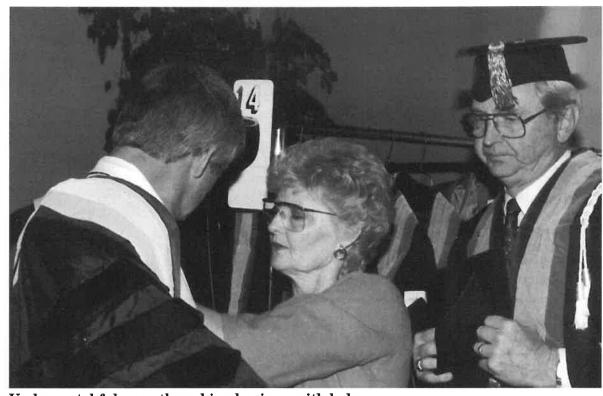

he Fellows, wives and families came to the "Gem of the West" expecting scenic views, excellent food and entertainment and found their expectations met.

Who can forget the magnificent view as our airplane lowered through the clouds over this beautiful city. The panoramic view was breathtaking. The view of the mighty Golden Gate bridge as it stretched over the bay caught our eye and held us entranced as our landing approached.

Towering skyscrapers, Coit Tower and Twin Peaks came into view as we rode into town.

Our greatest experience was yet to come—the Convocation with its induction of new Fellows. Nowhere else can you gather and see the leaders of dentistry recognized for their leadership and standing in our profession. You couldn't help but be proud to be a part of the most prestigious organization in dentistry—the International College of Dentists.

What happened in the days following could be termed icing on the cake. Many of us were thrilled by the view from our window, the jerkiness of the historic cable car and we held our breath as it plummeted down steep Hyde Park Hill. Hours were spent at

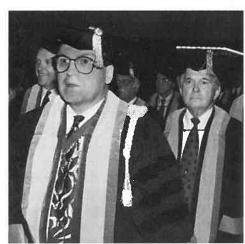

Under watchful eyes, the robing begins—with help.

Ghirardelli Square and the Factory and we were fascinated by the musicians in the area. Have you ever heard music of the Andes?

You were probably among those who strolled down Fisherman's Wharf munching on sour dough bread, topped off with a delicious sea food dinner in one of the many fine restaurants at the Wharf. You may have taken a harbor tour, traveled to Sausalito, spent hours in Chinatown or saw the giant redwoods in Muir Woods.

No one can deny that our visit was a "Gem of a visit" as we "Left Our Hearts in San Francisco". Our visit should also bring forth our determination to be part of a repeat performance as we meet for our next Convo-

District 1 MASSACHUSETTS

Fellows Mark Oliver, Herbert Schilder (professor and chairperson of the department) joyfully accept a $150,000 gift to the Boston University Goldman School of Endodontic Dentistry with Dr. Harold Levin (chairperson of the $1 million campaign).

The Boston University Henry M. Goldman School of Graduate Dentistry recently announced the completion of a seven-year, $1 million campaign to establish the Herbert Schilder Chair in Endodontics, in honor of Herbert Schilder, founder, professor and chairman of the Department of Endodontics at the school.

Spencer N. Frankl, dean of the school, revealed that the gift of $150,000 by Tulsa Dental Products, actually completed the campaign. It was the largest single gift of the campaign.

The chair was established to provide salary support for faculty members in the Department of Endodontics and to furnish financial assistance for student research, visiting professors, conferences and seminars. This endowment honors Dr. Schilder's distinguished service to the school as an academician, author, teacher and mentor to students and faculty alike.

It recognizes a man of dedication, wisdom and leadership.

Herbert graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree from Washington Square College, New York University, where he also earned his Dental Science degree. He joined the faculty of Boston University School of Medicine in 1958 in the Department of Stomatology, and was founding member of the faculty when the department became a separate school in 1963. In 1966 he became the Professor and Chairman of the Department of Endodontics.

With long-standing affiliations with both the ADA and the AAE. He has been very involved nationally in organized dentistry. He has served on various committees of the ADA, currently as a member of the House of Delegates. During 1990-91 he was the First Vice President of the organization. He also served as a member of the Executive Board of the AAE from 1964 to 1967, and again from 1981 to 1987, and was elected president for 1985-86. In addition, he has been an active member of the American Association of Dental Schools, the American Academy of Dental Science and the New England Foundation on Continuing Dental Education.

Herbert was elected to serve as trustee of the Research and Education Foundation of the American Association of Endodontists (AAE) for the years 1994-1997.

He has received numerous awards including: the Alumnus of the year award from New York University in 1991, the James W. Etherington Award from the Massachusetts Dental Society in 1992, and the Louis I. Grossman Award of the French Endodontic Society in 1992.

NEW ENGLAND

Jim Gaines and Regent Cyril Gaum give rapt attention to the speaker.

On January 21, 1994, the Annual ICD Luncheon, New England Section, was held in conjunction with the Yankee Dental Congress. Cyril Gaum, Regent of District 1, welcomed everyone in attendance and introduced the speakers and several attendees. We were fortunate in having James Gaines, President of the ADA, start off our meeting with a few brief remarks.

Also present at the luncheon, we welcomed Richard Shaffer, who is Registrar of ICD USA Section. His comments on the history and goals of the International College of Dentists made us feel proud to be part of such an important and vital organization.

Each year District 1 makes an award to an outstanding international dental student. On November 19, 1993, Cyril Gaum, Professor Emeritus of Endodontics at Tufts, presented the award to Dr. Evetta Schwartzman for her exceptional performance in the clinical sciences at Tufts.

NEW HAMPSHIRE

The ICD breakfast was held Saturday, June 25, 1994, as part of the New Hampshire Dental Society meeting in North Conway, NH. Our colleagues from the American College and the Pierre Fauchard Academy joined us. Dr. Robert O. Wilson presented a program on the Bosker mandibular implant.

Thomas C. Watts of Penacook, NH, will serve as Chairman of the New England section of the American College of dentists for 1994-1995.

District 2 New York

Ralph Rufino Lobene was honored, October 1, 1993, with the presentation of the University of Buffalo School of Dentistry's 1993 Alumni Honor Award. Ralph was a 1949 graduate of that school.

He served as an educator in several universities including University of Rochester, Tufts University and Harvard School of Dental Medicine.

Ralph's research credits are numerous and, since 1952, he has authored over 70 published articles. As a volunteer, this professional has offered services for such groups as the Massachusetts Dental Society, the American Association of Dental Schools, the Forsythe Dental Center, the International College of Dentists (serving as Regent for the First District for two terms.)

In 1988, Ralph Lobene was presented with the award for Outstanding Service to the Public and the Profession by the ADA and Colgate-Palmolive Company.

Jack G. Caton, D.D.S., M.S., Program Director of the Advanced Training Program in Periodontics and Professor at Eastman Dental Center was elected Chairman of the Board of Directors of the American Board of Periodontology (APB) at its Annual Meeting in Chicago in September, 1993.

The William J. Gies Foundation for the Advancement of Dentistry also awarded Jack the 1993 William J. Gies Periodontology Award. The award, given in conjunction with The American Academy of Periodontology (APP), honors outstanding contributions to the field of periodontics.

Jack has been a distinguished member of the Eastman Dental Center faculty for over 20 years. He is also on the faculty of the University of Rochester Department of Clinical Dentistry and Dental Research. He received his dental degree from the University of California Dental School, his masters from the University of Rochester and his certificate in periodontics from Eastman Dental Center.

A prolific contributor to scientific literature, he has published more that 90 original articles and abstracts. He has held the position of editor for Periodontal 2000—Periodontal Regeneration and is a reviewer for the Journals of Periodontology and Clinical Periodontology. In addition, he has served as lecturer, researcher and consultant in both the United States and abroad.

He belongs to several dental organizations, including the American Dental Association, American and International Associations for Dental Research and the International College of Dentists.

Dr. Caton practices periodontics in Greece and Irondequoit and is a resident of Pittsford.

Howard Rodin, Smithtown, has been elected a Fellow of the New York Academy of Dentistry.

"Clown" Howard Miller annually joins Clyde-Beatty-Cole Brothers Circus

Howard Miller, East Patchogue, practices pediatric dentistry, has been chairman of The Childrens Dental Health, and is the immediate Past President of The Suffolk County Dental Society. He is a member of The American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry. His oldest daughter, Michelle, is a student of U of P. His daughter Deborah, has been accepted at U of P, and his son, Joshua, has been accepted at The NYS School of Orchestral Studies, Saratoga.

As one of his hobbies, Howard likes to "clown around" - literally. Annually, when Clyde Beatty-Cole Brothers Circus comes to town, he puts on baggy pants and grease paint and a red rubber nose and joins "the greatest show on earth." He sees his young patients in the audience, waves to them and calls out their name. And they yell back "That's Doc the Clown, my dentist." His office decor has a circus motif. The patients sit in chairs shaped like teeth, and his operatory has a sign in front "It's fun time!" What a wonderful hobby!!!

Herman Ivanhoe, Brooklyn, has been involved for many years, and is still active as head of American Dentists for Foreign Service. In this capacity, he has shipped millions of dollars worth of used and refurbished dental equipment throughout the world. He has received, for ADFS, a commendation from The State Department and a Presidential Citation from President George Bush. He has been President of Columbia University School of Dentistry Alumni, and has received their Meritorious Award. He is Honorary Dean, Dental School, Chasen University, Korea. He is Attending Chief of Department of Oral Surgery, Maimonides Hospital, Surgical Service, Caledonia Hospital, Orthodontic Staff Samaritan Hospital, Orthodontic Panel - Board of Health, NYC - American Society for the Study of Orthodontics. He and his wife, Lynn and son, Dr. Elliot Ivanhoe, and daughter, Dr. Cindy Ivanhoe, have been guests to Egypt, Chile, Korea, China, and have traveled around the world.

District 4 MARYLAND

The Maryland chapter of the International College of Dentists held its Annual Business Meeting in December of 1993. On that occasion Harry W.F. Dressel Jr. was presented the Inman Award for dedication and meritorious service to the Maryland Chapter of the College. Harry is the Regent for District Four of the USA Section of the College. A few years ago he was presented the Distinguished Service Award, the highest honor, by the Maryland State Dental Association. These awards and countless other points of light speak to the years of dedication Harry has made to his profession. He is most deserving. William Patteson, Deputy Regent, made the presentation.

The Conrad L. Inman Award was established recently by the officers and board members in memory of the late Dr. Inman Sr. Dr. Inman had a very distinguished career in dentistry and professionalism and his career serves as witness to the significance of this award.

On that same occasion the Maryland Chapter presented the Annual Clendenin Award for academic excellence as a Freshman dental student to Ms. Lisa Buttaro, who recorded a 4.0 grade point average in her Freshman year. Dr. Gary Clendenin was present to honor Lisa and present a certificate and cash award. The Clendenin Award was established by the family of the late Dr. George Clendenin.

Recent recipients of twenty-five year service certificates included Harry W.F. Dressel Jr., Joseph P. Cappuccio, and Robert J. Leupold.

latter two were accompanied by their very attractive wives, between whom I sat! Dick told us that the College was "Alive, Alert, and Solvent" (all of which was well received). A highlight of the evening occurred when the VCR, playing a tape of Dick Shaffer's, malfunctioned. Captain "I can Fixit" (Henry St. Germaine) rushed to the rescue and performed on-the-spot rapid bypass repair. Admiral Shaffer later presented the tape "Leaders In Dentistry" to Harald Löe.

Indeed Harald was our featured speaker. He is the Director of the National Institute of Dental Research. His talk, titled "Mobilizing for the Millennium," touched on recent and future advances in dentistry(veddy interesting).

A good evening was enjoyed by all.

Several awards were presented to D.C. Dental Society members at the June 8th annual membership meeting at Fort McNair. The Sterling V. District 7 Indiana

With the music of "When the Saints Go Marching In", over eighty-five of the Indiana members of ICD were welcomed to the annual breakfast held on May 6, 1994. The Northern Lakes Brass Quintet got us in the mood for New Orleans, as their bright music helped to greet us at our 7 a.m. meeting. Jean Williams, Deputy Regent, welcomed us to Indianapolis and David Hay gave an original poetic invocation.

Gene Brinker came to the podium to thank many of the members for their efforts within ICD and to give special recognition to Chuck Hassel for his work as Deputy Regent and for his recent election to serve as Vice President of the Indiana Dental Association. Special thanks and recognition also went to John Rahe, Trustee for the Seventh District to the ADA and to Chuck Simons, our district VII Regent and Past President of the Indiana Dental Association. It is with the leadership of these special individuals and their talents, that the future of dentistry is bright. Each of these members were greeted to the podium with a special song played by the quintet, representing their special interests or talents. Chuck Simons almost broke into singing "Edelweiss" as he came to the podium!

Richard Rice chose not to sing, as he came to the podium and brought greetings as President of ICD. The Indiana members were proud to have Richard present and to share in his working with the ICD at the International level. Also representing the future of dentistry, our guest Dick D'Eustachio gave a few words about the current health care reform with which we are all concerned. Dick D'Eustachio, ADA President-Elect, was also the Keynote Speaker for the opening session of the Indiana Dental Association Forum 500, of which our District meeting is also a part.

Lloyd Phillips, Past President of ICD, acknowledged the IDA officers, ODA officers, and ICD officers present and invited James Felix, Vice Regent from Ohio to say a few words. James was also complimentary of the ICD activities and reminded us of future programs and fellowship and invited all of us to attend induction of our new candidates in New Orleans in October.

Being honored at this year's breakfast were ten candidates, all who will be inducted in New Orleans.

Chuck Simons introduced Karl Gossweiler, who through his unselfishness of both time and money, arranged a student exchange for Indiana University Sophomore Ben Yoder to attend the Free University of Berlin. In the previous year, Karl had arranged for a student from Berlin, Thelka Wandelt, to spend two weeks in Indiana. These exchange programs are truly exemplary of the goals of the ICD. Karl was presented with a check for the expenses incurred in arranging this exchange, which he graciously donated back to the District for future programs. Our warmest thanks was expressed to this fine gentleman for his generous contribution to the ICD and to the Seventh District.

Ben Yoder is the son of Keith Yoder, a 1963 graduate of Indiana University School of Dentistry. Ben spent time giving a slide presentation to our membership of his experience in Berlin. Noting some of the differences in the dental clinics, Ben noted that the students work in pairs, with a student assisting another student. He noted that there was not an emphasis on periodontal treatment nor infection control, with some students not using gloves, masks, etc. The Free University is one of the newer institutions and the lecture halls are complete with video presentations. The students use mannequins for much of their beginning work and do not see patients until they have completed two and a half years of dental school. He noted that the Germans do not favor amalgam restorations and they likewise do not have city fluoridation. For Ben, the experience was not all work as he had the opportunity to play soccer with the school team and improve on his language skills. Ben lived with the Wandelt family and visited the practice of Dr. Wandelt, a practicing German dentist. Ben truly enjoyed this unique experience and was grateful to all those who made this experience possible. It is the hope of District VII to continue these terrific programs in Indiana.

With an encore performance of the Northern lakes Brass Quintet, we ended morning festivities. It was another ICD event to remember, thanks to the thoughtful planing of Jean Williams.

ber Ohio Dental Association (ODA). The Columbus, Ohio general dentist is the immediate past chairman for the American Dental Association's (ADA) Council on Governmental Affairs and Federal Dental Services and continues to serve the council as a consultant. He served on the ADA's Task Force on Access, Health Care Financing and Reform, and chairs the ODA Task Force on health System Reform.

John G. Kramer received Ohio

John G. Kramer

State University College of Dentistry highest award, the Distinguished Service Award, at the December 10th University's Commencement.

John received his degree in dental science from Ohio State in 1957 and practices general dentistry in Martins Ferry, Ohio. he received his undergraduate degree from Washington and Jefferson College and has served as a member of their alumni board.

He led the initiative to create an alumni association for the College of Dentistry, serving as its first president and as a member of the association's board of governors. He has also served as chair of the Dentistry Fund and in 1990, he was honored with the College of Dentistry's Most Distinguished Alumni Award.

John has shared his time and talents with the University Medical Center. Appointed to the University Hospital's Board in 1986, Dr. Kramer chaired the Joint Conference Committee. He was elected chair of the Hospital's Board in 1988 and is the only person to serve three consecutive terms in that position.

His University service extends beyond the University Medical Center. He is a member of the President's Council of the Presidents Club. he recently served on the University's Managing for the Future Task Force.

John has given generously of his expertise to hospitals, schools, financial organizations. and other community activities in Ohio, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania. He is also actively involved in dental associations at regional, state, national, and international levels.

Robert L. Harter has assumed the post of President of the Greater Cleveland Dental Society. He will serve for one year succeeding outgoing president John R. Grady.

Bob has been an active member in the society since 1957, and a member of the Board of Directors for the past 15 years. He was a member of the Council on Dental Practice of the Ohio Dental Association ("O.D.A.") for six years, chaired the council last year, and also served six years on the O.D.A.'s peer review committee.

Robert earned his B.S. degree from John Carroll University, and his D.D.S. degree from the Case Western School of Dentistry.

"My top priority as president of the Dental Society will be to build bridges between our organization and other professional groups," says Robert. "We need to speak with one voice as the details of health care reform are decided, and as the trend toward managed care threatens to eliminate patients' freedom to choose which dentist they want caring for them."

He has practiced general dentistry in the same Lakewood location for 37 years, and that practice has become something of a family affair. His son Chris and daughter-in-law Jill, both dentists, are in practice with him, and daughter Marie Harter Jaicks is a dental hygienist. He lives in Bay Village with his wife Marilyn. They have two other children, Robert and Mary Beth.

The Ohio Section of ICD initiated

Jim Felix, Vice Regent, District 7, presents outgoing regent, Pat Metro, with a gift of appreciation from the Ohio section another banner year of activities with its annual banquet meeting in the beautiful Fireside Room of the downtown Columbus Capitol Club. The event took place on Saturday evening, September 18, 1993, during the 127th annual session of the Ohio Dental Association. Deputy Regent David Rummel, and his wife Candice, again hosted the meeting. Name tags, highlighted with ICD colors, were coordinated with flower arrangements at each table, adding to the gala atmosphere of the evening.

After a sumptuous dinner, David

Dick Rice introduces Dr. Bodnar and his student. Paula Perlea, here from Bucharest.

Rummel and Patrick Metro, District 7 Regent, welcomed well over 100 fellows and guests. Distinguished guests who were introduced included ADA President, Jack Harris, and his wife, Mary Ellen. Also introduced were ADA Treasurer, James Mercer, and his wife Jean; ADA District 7 Trustee, John Rahe, ICD International President-Elect, Richard Rice, and his wife, Lois. Special recognition was given to members of the Indiana delegation to the ODA House of Delegates headed by IDA President, Ed Fox. It is always a pleasure for the Ohio Section to entertain our Indiana fellows at this very special function.

Regent Pat Metro then presented his year-end report. He announced the annual Welcoming Breakfast for 16 Fellows-Elect and their spouses, Class of 1993, to be held at the San Francisco Hilton, Friday, November 5, 1993. The annual convocation and dinner dance follow later in the day, and into the evening. The 1994 Continuing Education Conference XII will be held in Vancouver, B.C., in conjunction with the second International ICD Induction. The dates are September 29 to October 2, 1994. Everyone is encouraged to attend!

Pat took this occasion to thank all those in attendance for their friendship, cooperation and support during his six-year tenure as Regent of District 7. "The years have gone quickly. We have made significant improvements, and it has been a true joy and pleasure to have served the fellows of Indiana and Ohio," Pat said in his closing message. Vice Regent Elect of District 7, James Felix, then presented Pat with a gift from the Ohio Section in recognition of his dedication and service to the College and dentistry. All those present responded with a standing ovation for Pat.

Beginning January 1994, Charles Simon, Indiana, District 7 Regent, with James Felix, Ohio, serving as Vice Regent. Other Ohio Section officers are Robert Horton, Deputy Regent; David Rummel, Counselor; and Robert Hinkle, Editor. All the officers were duly inducted into office.

Richard Rice, International President of ICD; reported on the 1994
Student Exchange project. Dick introduced Richard Bellino and John Bozak, juniors at Case Western Reserve University School of Dentistry, who traveled to Bucharest, Romania, in July for three weeks of study and observation. Also introduced as guests were Paula Perlea, a student at Carol Davila Dental School in Bucharest, Romania, who traveled to Cleveland for four weeks with Hor-atio Bodnar, an oral surgeon. Together they visited various dental offices, clinics and hospitals in Cleveland to observe facilities and techniques of interest. In Columbus, during the ODA annual session, the two toured the OSU College of Dentistry, and the Medical Center. They were sent home with many dental journals, textbooks, instruments and supplies sorely needed in their country. In fact, their luggage was overweight. The $110 penalty was waived, however, for humanitarian reasons!

This was all a marvelous and most successful dovetailing of the International Student Exchange Program and the USA-ICD Section International Clinicians Program. Richard Rice is to be saluted for spearheading these invaluable programs in international relations and cooperation.

Fittingly, during the ODA annual session,. Richard Rice was accorded singular recognition when it was announced he was recipient of ODA's 1993 Distinguished Dentist Award, the highest recognition bestowed by the ODA on one of its members. The award recognizes respected leaders in dentistry who have advanced their profession. As most Fellows of the College know, Dick has an enviable record of achievement and contribution to the dental profession on the local, national, and international level, culminating in his election to the international presidency of ICD. A 1951 graduate of Case Western Reserve Dental School, Dick is past president of the Greater Cleveland Dental Society, and a former recipient of the ODA Achievement Award. Throughout his distinguished career, Dick has been committed to his family, church and community. He and his wife, Lois, reside in Lyndhurst, Ohio.

Also during the ODA annual session, Robert Hinkle, District 7 Editor, received the 1993 Pierre

Robert Hinkle

Fauchard Academy Award in recognition of his outstanding, nearly 40-year involvement with the Ohio Dental Association. During this time he served 10 years of ODA Treasurer before moving through chairs to serve as ODA president in 1987-88. He previously acted as acting executive director of the association. In 1990, Bob was chosen Ohio's Distinguished Dentist. On the national level he was a longtime delegate to the ADA, and served as a member and chair of the ADA Commission on Relief and Disaster. Bob practices in Columbus where he and his wife, Peg, live.

The annual Spring Brunch of the Cleveland Section was held in March 1994 at the Country Club of Cleveland. Over 50 Fellows and guests enjoyed a delicious Sunday buffet and good fellowship amid the beautiful surroundings of the Club. Lawrence Goldblatt, newly appointed Dean, Case Western Reserve School of Dentistry, was introduced. Larry gave a brief overview of his plans for the future of the school.

The names of the Fellows-Elect, Class of 1994, to be inducted into the College in October, include Richard Ansted, Toledo; Dennis Burns, Washington; Robert Burns, Perrysburg; William Davis, Jr., Perrysburg; Henry Fields, Columbus; Don Glendenin, Jr., Springfield; Jerold Goldberg, Pepper Pike; David Johnsen, Cleveland Heights; Ronald Lemmo, Richmond Heights; Marsha Pyle, Solon; and Marion Wazney, Willoughby Hills.

Plans are now underway for another great evening at the Capitol Club during the 128th annual session of the ODA on Saturday evening, September 17, 1994. Plan to attend and see friends and colleagues.

This report will be my last one as your District 7 Editor. It has been a pleasure to chronicle the Ohio Section's formal functions and informal activities for over 10 years. The new friends made around the country, and old friendships rekindled throughout the state and locally are the reward for the time and effort that go into preparing these section summaries. I have enjoyed it. Peg and I look forward to many more years of active participation with all of our friends in the College.

District 8 Illinois

During the 51st Annual Session of the American Association of Endodontists held in Honolulu, Hawaii from April 27-May 1, Jerome Pisano was elected to serve as the 1994-1995 Vice President of the AAE. Dr. Pisano takes this position after having served as the AAE Secretary for the past two years. He has also served as a member of the AAE Board of Directors. From the position of Vice President, he will ascend to the Presidency of the AAE in 1996.

Jerome is a founding member of the Illinois Association of Endodontics and served as its first President from 1986-1987. His achievements in the endodontic profession have been recognized by the Omicron Kappa Upsilon and Alpha Sigma Nu Honor Societies, the American College of Stomalogic Surgeons and the International College of Dentists. In 1991, the Arcolian Dental Society named Dr. Pisano "Man of the Year."

District 9 MICHIGAN

Harold A. Maxmen was recognized as a recipient of the Edgar D. Coolidge Award of the American Association of Endodontist's Annual Session in Honolulu, Hawaii, April 27-May 1, 1994. The Coolidge Award honors and AAE member who has displayed leadership and exemplary dedication to dentistry and endodontics and who has actively participated the AAE during his or her professional lifetime.

This year's Coolidge Award recognizes the extraordinary commitment of Dr. Maxmen to the field of endodontics and the AAE. He is a charter member of the American Association of Endodontists, the Century Fund Club of the University of Detroit School of Dentistry and the Michigan Association of Endodontist. In addition, he is a founder of the Hadassah School of Dentistry in Tel Aviv, Israel, and is a supporting member of the Research and Education Foundation of the AAE.

The Deputy Regent of the Michigan Section of ICD, William R. Chase,

William R. Chase

was honored by Rotary International by its "Service Above Self" Award. In 1992, the Rotary International Board of Directors decided to create a new award to recognize those Rotarians who truly embody Rotary's motto of "Service Above Self." While many Rotarians distinguish themselves through service to Rotary, it was important to find a way to recognize those outstanding few who have made service a way of life. Rotary felt it necessary to recognize such an achievement with an award that will be Rotary International's highest honor to a Rotarian. In 1993, Dr. Chase was so honored.

Bill has provided dental treatment to the underserved people in the Philippine Islands. On two occasions, he has served the natives of the Amazon River Basin and the dental clinic there now bears his name. He will be returning this fall for another four week stint. Bill has served as District Governor of Rotary and as previously stated, he is currently serving as Deputy Regent of the Michigan Section of ICD. Last week he was elected Editor of the Michigan Dental Association, another distinguishing honor.

Another Michigan member, Hugh Cooper, was also recognized by receiving the highest honor that can be presented by the Michigan Dental Association, its Meritorious Award.

roll and District 9 Regent Richard Shick were both present to update us on a national and district level. Ken Waliszewski, Vice Regent and Deputy Regent, David Sampe presided over the meeting.

An award was presented to Marquette University School of Dentistry seniors, James Watson, and Alec Ellsworth for an outstanding table clinic, titled "Excitation Secretion Coupling in Porcine Parotid Cells". The table clinic was presented during the Wisconsin Dental Annual Session in September.

The meeting was followed by a wonderful dining and social event. It was a combined event of both the ICD and ACD members attending.

At the ADA meeting and our ICD convocation in San Francisco five members from Wisconsin were inducted into the International College of Dentists they were: William Kortsch, Doran Ryan, Kenneth Zakariasen, and Ronald Stifter.

At the conclusion of the 51st Annual Session of the American Association of Endodontists held in Honolulu, Hawaii, April 27-May 1, Philip W. Cohen began his term as 1994-95 President-elect. He will assume the AAE presidency at the 1995 Annual Session in Florida.

Dr. Cohen also represents the AAE on the American Dental Association's Advisory Committee on Insurance Codes. He is a member of the Peer Review Committee of the Michigan Dental Association and serves on the Board of Directors of the Michigan Association of Endodontists. He worked as an Endodontic Consultant to Delta Dental Plan of Michigan from 1975 to 1986.

District 10 Iowa

During the American Association of Endodontists' 51st Annual Session in Honolulu, Hawaii, April 27-May 1, William T. Johnson was elected to serve a three year term on the Board of Directors of the American Board of Endodontics. Dr. Johnson takes this position after having served as chair of the Educational Affairs Committee of the American Association of Endodontics.

From 1983-1991, he taught as a faculty member in the department of endodontics at the University of Nebraska College of Dentistry and served as department chair for three years. He is now an associate professor and director of the Advanced Education Program for his alma mater in Iowa City, Iowa. In addition to teaching, Dr. Johnson is a consultant for the American Dental Association's (ADA) Council on Dental Materials, instruments and Equipment and has been appointed to the ADA's Commission on Dental Accreditation.

A national and international lecturer, he has published over twenty manuscripts in refereed journals. He has been recognized of his achievements by the International College of Dentists and Omicron Kappa Upsilon. He is a member of many professional organizations and honor societies including the International Association of Dental Research, Delta Sigma Delta, and the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States. In 1989, he served as president of the Nebraska Association of Endodontists.

On May 3rd, the Iowa Chapter of the International College of Dentists met at their annual breakfast meeting at the Savory Hotel in Des Moines in conjunction with the Iowa State Dental Association meeting. The Eggs Benedict were excellent and the event was well attended and afforded opportunities for many long-time acquaintances to share past pleasures and future plans. Also, attending the breakfast were new fellows Dan Kegler and Dick Hynes; welcome aboard! A University of Iowa College of Dentistry senior, Ingrid Schwartz was honored for her scholastic achievement this year. Larry Huber awarded the plague and check.

It was also announced that the video tape collection entitled "Chronicles of Outstanding Leaders in Dentistry" are now available for loan by contacting Regent Thayer. Keith will also be representing the USA Section in Jakarta, Indonesia in October at their ICD convocation meeting. There, about 30 new inductees will become fellows. Finally, any interested Fellow who wishes to participate in a volunteer dental mission to the Caribbean in 1995 are asked to contact Peter Fotos at the College for details

NEBRASKA

On April 17, 1993, a breakfast meeting of ICD in conjunction with Nebraska Dental Association annual session was held at the Cornhusker Hotel in Lincoln, Nebraska. Dick Shaffer, Registrar of ICD US Section, gave 21 members present an interesting update on programs currently sponsored by ICD.

An evening of fellowship was enjoyed by members and wives of ICD and ACD at the Hillcrest Country Club. The swing choir of Lincoln East High School presented the musical program.

The annual fall meeting of the Nebraska Chapter of ICD met at the Villager Motel, Lincoln, NE on Sept. 4, 1993. President Lon D. Carroll of Portland, OR, was guest speaker. Lon, being a native Nebraskan, was given a warm welcome. He attended a concert the evening before at the Lied Center for Performing Arts with Henry Mancini conducting the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra.

Following the morning meeting, president Carroll was the guest of Deputy Regent Harley Batie at the Nebraska football game. After the game, Lon was guest of honor at a Pizza Party at the home of Charles President Lon Carroll and Nebraska Chapter President Charles Anderson wondering what it is.

Nebraska had reason to celebrate two firsts at the 1993 Convocation. Joan Sivers and Sharlene Wilson were the first Nebraska women to be inducted into our College and Sharlene and Robert Wilson were the first husband and wife Nebraskans inducted at the same convocation.

MINNESOTA

The Minnesota Chapter of the USA Section held its meeting in conjunction with the Minnesota Dental Association's annual meeting in Minneapolis on May 3, 1994. Counselor Eric Stafne presided over the meeting, and after welcoming almost fifty fellows, introduced the dignitaries present. Among them were Don Erikson, past president of the International College; Don Bentley, past president of the American Dental Association; Odin Langsjoen, 1994 guest of Honor of the Minnesota Dental Association. Minnesota's new Fellow, Joseph Wenner, was introduced.

The fellows were reminded of the project that had been decided on two years ago of supporting the University of Minnesota's Dental School's International Student Exchange Program. The fellows were asked if they wanted to continue this support. There was a positive discussion that followed, and the fellows unanimously decided to continue the support of this very worthwhile project.

The featured speaker for the breakfast was Dominic Sposito, who is the Minnesota Dental Association's lobbyist in the Minnesota Legislature. He started his talk by giving us a quick history of health care reform in the state of Minnesota. Minnesota Care. as the bill is called, began in 1991. This was the year that a bill was passed to get health care insurance for the uninsured in the state of Minnesota. This bill was vetoed by Governor Carlson because it didn't have a funding source and it didn't do anything to contain health care costs for those people who had health insurance. In 1992 the legislature drafted the Health Right Law. This law set up the Minnesota Care program, which instituted the provided tax to fund health care reform. It also created the Health Care Commission, which was given a year to come up with a way to contain health care costs. In 1993 the law set up the blueprint for health care reform in Minnesota. The way the commission saw to control costs of health care was to reorganize the delivery of health care services. They decided to create Integrated Service Networks as well as an all payer regulated system. The 1993 law was based on this two tier system of health care delivery. It didn't have a lot of specifics, it was just the blueprint for these regulatory modes. It asked the Commissioner of Health to come up with an implementation plan to be presented to the 1994 legislature. The integrated Service were to be effective in July 1994 and the all payer regulated system was to be effective in 1996. During the 1994 Legislative Session, the Health Commissioner decided that these effective dates were not going to happen so the implementation of both systems was delayed until 1997. Mr. Sposito went on to tell the fellows what the Minnesota Dental Association's position was during the Legislative Sessions in 1993 and 1994. He also gave us his expert opinion on what to expect the 1995 Minnesota Legislature to look at in health care reforms.

Counselor Stafne closed the 1994 meeting with the reminder that next year's breakfast would once again be held in conjunction with the Minnesota Dental Association's annual meeting.

District 12 Louisiana

During the 51st Annual Session of the American Association of Endodontists in Honolulu, Hawaii, April 27-May 1, Denis E. Simon III was elected to a second term as treasurer of the AAE. Dr. Simon has served on the Board of Directors for the past four years. In addition to his work with the AAE, he is a director in the Louisiana Dental Association and serves on the staff of Our Lady of the Lake Regional Medical Center. He was certified as a Diplomate of the American Board of Endodontics in 1984.

ARKANSAS

The Arkansas constituent chapter meeting of the USA Section of the ICD, District 12, met just prior to the joint ICD-ACD breakfast, Saturday, April 16, 1994 during the Arkansas State Dental Association Annual Session in Little Rock. 70+% of our members were in attendance. Enthusiasm was the mood of the morning. Following a delicious breakfast served by the staff of the historic Capital Hotel, Deputy

Regent Max Friend introduced our distinguished guests, Ross
DeNicola, ICD District Regent; Jim Gaines, ADA President and ADA
12th District Trustee, Gary Newman.
All three made cogent remarks regarding national and state level of activities and status.

Ross spoke eloquently about the USA Section, its activities, vitality and programs and stressed that we need to be certain that the candidate information forms be complete in full, especially the area of civic and social involvement.

R.L. Smith, ICD Editor, talked about the projects of ICD, stressing the CEC sessions, and the need to develop potential, qualified young candidates to help our chapter grow.

John Weiderkehr, participant of several CECs, emphasized the quality of the scientific sessions, the exciting and wonderful planned social activities provided and urged the Fellows' attendance.

Deputy Regent Max W. Friend was awarded the Arkansas State Dental Association's highest award, the Distinguished Service Award, at its 1994 Annual Session in April for his over 10 years of dedicated service to the association as its Award Chairman. A graduate of St. Louis University's School of Dentistry, he has had Army (Korea) and Navy service (Parris Island), served on the staff of the Missouri Pacific Hospital and the District 13 California

Peter F. Johnson, DMD, a prosthodontist in private practice in Peter F. Johnson is newly elected President of the American College of Prosthodontics.

LaMesa, was elected president of the American College of Prosthodontists during their 24th Annual Session held in Palm Springs, California October 27-30, 1993.

Peter received his DMD degree from the School of Dental Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania in 1971, and his certificate of prosthodontics from the School of Dentistry at the University of Southern California in 1977. He received his bachelor's degree from Princeton University in 1967.

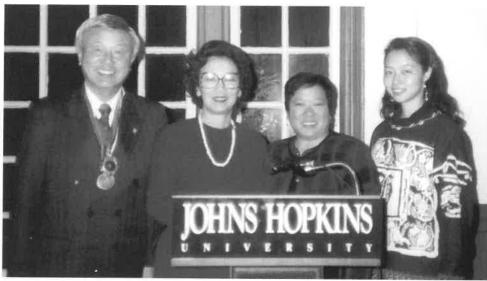

A retired U.S. Navy DentalCorps Captain, he is currently both in private practice in LaMesa and on the faculty of the University of Southern California's School of Dentistry. He has held faculty positions at several teaching institutions, including Georgetown University's Dental School in Washington, DC, the Naval Dental School in Bethesda, Maryland, and the Naval School of Dental Assisting and Technology in San Diego. He has also been on the staffs of several hospitals, including the Naval Hospitals in Bethesda, Philadelphia and San Diego, and Grossmont Hospital in LaMesa.

Peter is a board-certified prosthodontist. He has published numerous artciles in dental specialty publications and has given literally hundreds of lectures on topics related to prosthodontics, as well.

He lives in San Diego, California, with his wife, Marie, and son, Neil, and is active in the San Diego Chapter of the Princeton Club.

Herbert K. Yee was installed as Vice President of the worldwide International College of Dentists in conjunction with the 134th annual session of the ADA in San Francisco. Herbert is a past president of the University of the Pacific School of Dentistry's Alumni Association and a past recipient of that school's Distinguished Alumnus of the Year award.

Johns Hopkins University recently honored Herbert Yee with an invitation to participate in its Asian Awareness week, March 7-12, 1994. Johns Herbert and Inez Yee with chairperson of the J.H. Inter-Asian Council Maki Hsieh on the right.

Hopkins, with some 30% of its students of Asian heritage, invited Yee to visit with and address faculty, staff and students during the week.

During the 51st Annual Session of the American Association of Endodontists, Stephen Cohen was elected a trustee of the Research and Education Foundation of the AAE for the years 1994-1997.

In addition to his practice, he is a professor, consultant and author. For the past twenty years, he has taught at the University of the Pacific School of Dentistry, where he is an Adjunct Clinical Professor of Endodontics. He and fellow professor, Dr. Richard C. Burns, co-authored Pathways of the Pulp, which is now in its sixth edition. He is also the assistant editor of the AAE's Journal of Endodontics. In 1975, he served as a consultant with the House Intergovernmental Relations and Human Resources Subcommittee to support testimony on the uses and abuses of formaldehyde-containing pastes in endodontics. In recognition of his extensive contributions to the field of endodontics, Dr.

Cohen has attained fellowship in the International College of Dentists and honorary membership in the French Society of Endodontists and the Endodontists of Spain.

During the 51st Annual Session of the American Association of Endodontists in Honolulu, Hawaii, April 27-May 1, Richard C. Burns was elected to serve as AAE President for 1994-1995. Dr. Burns assumes the presidency after serving as President-elect for the last year. He has also served on the AAE Board of Directors for the past three years and as the Chair of the Research and Education Foundation of the AAE for two years.

Richard practices endodontics in San Mateo, California and was recently named a full Professor of Endodontics at the University of the Pacific School of Dentistry. An artist and cartoonist, he is chief illustrator and coeditor of the well-known endodontic text, Pathways of the Pulp. A cartoon creation "Rufus and his Dad," ran for nearly ten years in the California Dental Association's journal. His cartoons have also appeared in the Jour- nal of the American Dental Association and many other dental publications. In addition, his humorous renditions of the various types of facial pain enliven The Tooth Pain Guide, a patient education brochure published by the AAE.

He has been recognized for his achievements with fellowship in the International College of Dentists. He has attained membership in Omicron Kappa Upsilon and TAU Kappa Omega Honor Societies. In addition, he is a member of the Northern California Cartoon and Humor Society.

If you want to see millions of gallons of water a second falling right down at you from 180 feet above, just ask Jack Conley or Ron Voss.They'll be glad to show you the miles of videotape and albums of photographs of Niagara Falls they took from the Maid of the Mist during the ICD's Continuing Education Conference XI in Buffalo, NY last summer.

Outdoing the stereotypical foreign tourists, Jack and Ron were laden with camcorders, 35 mm SLRs, wide angle and telephoto lenses, panoramic cameras and at least two aim-and-shoots...each. They dubbed their wives, Joanne and Carol, chief gaffer and best boy, since they carried all the equipment.

It wasn't all fun and games at CEC XI, though, the presentations on implants, perio, and medical conditions affecting dental care by department heads at the University of Buffalo dental school were outstanding.

California ICD Fellows rejoiced in seeing so many ICD friends from all over at last November's ADA Annual Session in San Francisco. Not only did the meeting break the all time attendance record for an ADA Annual Session, the S.F. Visitors and Convention Bureau reports that it was the largest convention of any kind ever held in "Everyone's Favorite City." We found a lot of hearts left in San Francisco.

At the traditional New Fellows breakfast on the day of the Convocation, Erik Olsen, retired president of Delta Dental Plan of California, mesmerized his audience with a presentation on the various scenarios of how dental practices would fare under the possible forms of health care reform legislation.

With his vast knowledge and experience in dental care administration and slides of easily-understood data, he presented a sobering picture of the future, depending on whether dental care is included in any health care reform.

The ongoing national issue of health care reform was also Dale Redig's presentation at a joint breakfast when ICD Fellows met with Southern California Fellows of the American College of Dentists during the Spring Scientific Session of the California Dental Association in Anaheim in April.

The CDA executive director reported on the visitations with the state's congressional members in Washington, D.C. by the CDA leadership. They found, by and large, dental care not to be a high priority item in the national debate on the future of health care. Nevertheless, the main message left with the congress members is the importance of retaining the tax deductibility of dental benefits.

The Anaheim meeting was dedicated to Carlton Williams one of our profession's most beloved and admired leaders. A past president of numerous organizations, including the ADA, the CDA and the Federation Dentaire Internationale, Carlton is truly a giant in the profession.

In late Spring, ICD fellows joined the ACD Fellows in Northern California in Oakland's Jack London Square to learn from Randall Berning, an attorney prominent in the area of practice development, estate planning and transfer or sale of practice. As many in the audience are at that stage of their careers, he had a very attentive group.

The Willard Fleming Meritorious Award was presented posthumously to George Yamamoto, who served the profession for many years in a quiet, reliable and superlative way. The award is designed to be given to an individual who exemplifies the qualities we admire but who has seldom been recognized for his or her efforts. In truth, George was certainly an unsung hero.

His lifelong friend, Tom Pursiano, presented the award to Mits Yamamoto and daughters Ellen and Julie, in a very moving ceremony.

Dental educators are always in the news, but this time it's in a very poignant way. UCSF's dean John Greene, and Loma Linda's dean, Judson Klooster, were both honored with testimonial dinners as they embarked on well-earned journeys into retirement. Both contributed immensely to dental education and leave a legacy of remarkable growth and development in their schools during their administration.

All the News That's Good To Print: Nguyen T. Nquyen received the ADA's Certificate of Recognition for volunteer service in a foreign country, noting such service to have begun as long ago as 1970 when, under the auspices of the State Department and the USAID program, Nguyen spent months in Vietnam and Indonesia providing continuing education to practitioners in those countries. On other occasions, he took on similar tasks, expending his own funds. Most recently, he led a group of dentists on yet another trip to Vietnam and delivered much needed care to the poor, using mobile facilities. Here at home, Nguyen has taught endodontics at UCSF for forty years, twenty-four as Chairman of its Endodontics Section. On top of all that, he still maintains a private practice in San Francisco.

Art Dugoni was appointed to the Pew Health Commission, the only dental educator in the group.

Fred Wong and Al Wasserman were the dedicatees of the 1994 UCSF Alumini Association Meeting.

Harold Nielson received the Medal of Honor at the same meeting.

Jack Conley is the new Regent (Regency 7) of the American college of Dentists, continues as editor of the prestigious CDA Journal, and concluded his term as president, American Association of Dental Editors.

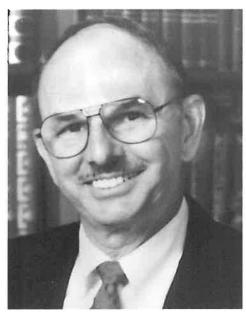

Keith Blair retired, after 13 years as the editor of the ACD, culminating a 30-year career as an editor of dental publications.

Peter F. Johnson was elected president of the American college of Prosthodontists.

Gene West was honored with the establishment of an endowed chair in his name at the Division of Orthodontics, recognizing his decades of service to dental education.

District 14 Arizona

Chalres L. Siroky, DDS, a Phoenix endodontist, was installed today as second vice-president of the American Dental Association. Dr Siroky's installation took place at the

ADA's 134th Annual Session in San Francisco, California.

Dr. Siroky will serve on the ADA Board, which formulates and reviews policies and programs and makes recommendations to the 418 members of the ADA House of delegates. In this capacity, he will play a major role in the ADA's overall objective of protecting and improving the public's oral health and promoting advances in dentistry.

He graduated from the University of Southern California School of Dentistry. He is a past president of the Arizona State Dental Association and the Central Arizona Dental Society and a fellow of the International Colleges of Dentists.

Dr. Siroky and his wife, Gayle are parents of four children.

Colorado

The Colorado Chapter activities this past year included a $400.00 grant awarded to the University of Colorado School of Dentistry for Alumni Day October 8, 1993 where the first William H. Hiatt Memorial Lecture was presented by Dr. Hiatt's son, William R. Hiatt, MD, Chief of Vascular Medicine at the University of Colorado School of Medicine.

Each year, our chapter awards a $500.00 Grace Ogle Scholarship to a senior dental Student, the recipient for 1993 being Matthew T. Pagini.

The year was concluded in January 1994 with an annual business meeting held during the Metropolitan Denver Dental Association Midwinter Meeting, where John Forney was inducted as the new Deputy Regent, replacing Dennis Nelson who recently retired. During the meeting, an annual table clinic award sponsored by our chapter was awarded to Ron Yaros. Robert Morrow and Willis Kittleman were inducted into the College and welcomed as our newest members.

HAWAII

Newell Warr replaced Charles Foster as Utah's Deputy Regent. New counselors are Charles Foster, Legislative; Richard Petty, Homeless; Brian Thornley, Mentor. Jerry Black, Treasurer, and John Chambers, Editor. Ralph Montogomery was also recognized for his work with the Salt Lake Homeless Shelter.

District 15 Texas

We are delighted to admit a correction that is necessary to correct an error published in the recent issue of the GLOBE. Dr. Fred A. England of Irving, Texas is alive and active. We are happy to make the correction and regret our misinformation.

The Texas Chapter of ICD gathered for their breakfast meeting, January 22, 1994, during the Dallas Midwinter meeting.

Richard Schoessler, president of the USA Section, ICD brought greetings and a report on the activities of the USA Section.

Literary awards were presented to Dr. Joe Harkins for his "To Sign or Not To Sign—Is There Really A Choice?" and to Dr. James Wensink for his "Capitation is Bad News for Dentistry."

John Rumley was installed as president of the Texas Chapter and Richard Carnahan was installed as President elect of the Chapter. Frank Eggleston did the honors. John is also Vice Regent, Dist. 15. Frank is President Elect of the TDA.

Our speaker was cowboy humorist Stan Cobb.

Our next meeting was a joint breakfast with the American College of Dentists during the Texas Dental Association Annual Session in San Antonio, May 6th, 1994.

Dr. Charles Jarvis, noted humorist, gave a very lively and inspirational talk.

District 16 VIRGINIA

During the 51st Annual Session of the American Association of Endodontists in Honolulu, Hawaii, April 27-May 1, Gary Hartwell was elected to serve a three year term on the Board of Directors of the AAE. As District I Director, Gary represents endodontists from Connecticut to Maine and Pennsylvania to Virginia. He is also a member of the Editorial Board for the Journal of Endodontics and is on the National Council of the Research and Education Foundation of the AAE.

Dr. Hartwell is now associate professor and chair of the Department of Endodontics at the Medical College of Virginia, Virginia Commonwealth University. He is also a member of the American and International Associations for Dental Research. In recognition for his research efforts and publications, he has attained fellowship in the International College of Dentists and membership in Omicron Kappa Upsilon Honor Society.

At its 1993 meeting the Virginia Chapter of the International College presented Dean Lindsay Hunt with a check for $3500 for the ICD Scholoship Fund. This fund was established by the Virginia Chapter a few years ago with an initial gift of $10,000. The interest on the proncipal is given each year to a rising senior student selected by the faculty. The fund now has a corpus of $13,500. This represents a commitment on the part of the Virginia Chapter to dental educaiton. The fund is administered by the Medical College of Virginia Foundation.

NORTH CAROLINA

The North Carolina ICD Section held its annul meeting jointly with the North Carolina ADC Section in conjunction with the North Carolina Dental Society. The meeting was held in the Raddison Resort Motel in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina - May 20, 1994. The meetings are held jointly since many individuals hold dual memberships in both colleges and had provided a more active participation. ACD Deputy Regent William Bentley and ICD Deputy Regent H.

Wayne Mohorn co-chaired the meeting with William Bentley presiding.

Guests welcomed included Dr.
Raleigh H. Watson, President of the Virginia Dental Association and wife
Pat; Dr. Terry Kunkle, President
Elect of the South Carolina Dental
Association and wife Sarah and Dr.
David Whitson, 16th District ADA
Trustee.

International College Fellows inducted in Boston in 1993 included Peter Lockhart, William Quarles, Bill Rabe, Steve Mackler and Smith Jewell.

The presentation of the ACD Student Award and the ICD Student Award was of special interest to both groups.

The ACD Student Award was received by D. Jason Mohorn, son of H. Wayne Mohorn, Seputy Regent ICD. The ICD Student Award was received by Elizabeht Rushin.

Elizabeth presented a most interesting and outstanding professional student background which included a number of refereed scientific publications. She was awarded the Stouffer Food Scholarship, the Margaret Neely Scholarship, and ws frequently on the Dean's List. she was also very active in extra-cirricular activites. Married, she is the mother of a five motneh old son.

UNC Dean John Stamm presented a slide illustraiton program on the approved plans that will allow construction of new nad renovation of old structures and will provide one of the best, if not the best dental facility in the world. The funds to provide this new center are the successful results of the $6,500,000 "Campaign of Excellence". The "campaign" was cochaired by James Harrell, Sr. and John Stamm, Dean of the Dental School. The success of the drive hinged largely on the support of the alumni from the dental school. The co-chairman credit the success largely to the steering committee that was very aggressive and ever present.

The North Carolina Dental Society will be in good hands for the 1994-5 year. ICD Fellow Morris Griffin will serve as President. Morris had served in all the offices of the local, district, and state societies and served on some national assignments as well. He has also been very active in community service work. In the National Guard, he served in a Medical Unit as a Commanding Officer for many years nad attained the rank of Colonel.

Bettie McKaig will serve as President elect. Ted Robertson will serve as Vice President and Carl Mason will serve as Secretary Treasurer. Robert W. Sugg serves as chairman of the ADA Delegation.

ICD Members elected to the North Carolina Board of Trustees and Michael Justice, James Elliot, Ken Phillips, Carlton Winter and Charles Willis.

Greg Chadwick breathed a sigh of relief and gratification as he completed a very successful year as president of the N.C. Dental Society. Congratulations on a job well done.

Henry Aldridge has embarked on a political campaign in pursuit of a seat in the U.S. House of Representatives from the 9th N.C. District. He possesses the necessary qualified background experience as a citizen and as an active member of the health profession which is especially very critical a this time.

Jack Shankle, a universal president of about every dental organization has been invested as Commander of the Order of St. John Jerusalem in N.C. This is the oldest order of Christian and military chivalry in the world. he also passed the examination as a Dental Consultant given by the American Association of Dental Consultants.

Roger Bridgeman was elected to membership in the American Academy of Restorative Dentistry.

J. Kenneth Adisman is a Clinical Professor a the UNC Dental School in the Department of Prosthodontics. He is also chairman of the Editorial council of the Journal of Prosthetic Dentistry and is President and Director of the International Circuit courses.

Dentists" included a father and three sons. The occasion may not be unique in all of dentistry, but it is in the North Carolina Dental Society at this time. All graduated from the University of North Carolina School of Dentistry. H, Wayne, Sr. a 1964 graduate and his son, Harold., a 1986 graduate are in the practice of endodontics in Greensboro, N.C. Steven G., a 1992 graduate will finish his endodontic training from UNC in 1996. Son D. Jason, received his DDS degree in 1994 and has entered the Oral Surgery Program at the UNC School of Dentistry. Upon graduation he received the ACD Student Award. The family is to be congratulated for achieving such an admirable goal. All have been very active in dental affairs, school activities, as well as other professional and civic activities. We are very proud of you.

As usual in North Carolina, The Dental Profession is indebted to our ambitious retirees who continue to serve dentistry in subtle and not so subtle capacities with non-expectant rewards.

In response to the Editor's request for news, Jake Freedland who is widely known for his experience for publishing and teaching, supplied the following modest paragraph. "My activities these recent years have been mostly attuned to the geriatric areas. Retirement has not been either a bore or a burden. In fairness to your request, I cannot inflate any activity that would justify recording with your report of this district."

In composing and reading this report, the editor finds the volunteer activities of the members included in this report, overwhelming. To attempt to estimate the number of gratis hours that some of our members spend to promote a better program for dental health is nearly impossible. Thanks to all of them.

Can a female become a Fellow?
